COMMISSION PROCESS

- 1) After a discussion with the client, I go on site with a sketch book, or use photographs to produce an initial watercolour or drawing.
- 2) The initial idea is presented to the client indicating the final size.
- 2) After a brief discussion with the client I implement any amends if need be.
- 3) Once any amends are implemented the watercolour or drawing is signed off and the cost is agreed.
- 4) At this stage the final painting will be finished and presented as a scan.
- 5) On approval the painting will be framed and delivered to the client
- 6) payment on delivery.

IDEAS ON COST

The cost of a painting is dependant on the size and complexity. The watercolour below is 61cm wide and would be about £870 mounted and framed. If you do not want a frame then minus £120

Note: Oil paintings take about four times as long and this is naturally reflected in the cost.

FITTING TO THE BUDGET

If you have budget in mind then please get back to me with a few ideas and I will see what I can do for you.
